German Studies Association

The German Studies Association is a national and international association of scholars in all fields of German Studies. Its interests spans the period from early times to the present Federal Republic of Germany, Austria, and Switzerland. A multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary organization, the Association welcome as members individuals whose interests involve specific or broad aspects of history, literature, culture studies, politics and government, and other fields relating to German-speaking Europe. Members of the Association receive the German Studies Review, the Newsletter, and all other publications.

The Association holds an annual conference, usually in mid-September or October. A Call for Papers is issued in the winter of the preceding year, and the deadline for submissions of proposals is announced. A Conference Program is sent to each member.

The Association Main Office is located at 340 E. 15th Street, Tempe, AZ 85281, USA. Its telephone number is 480-966-2245, and the fax number is 480-966-2239. Messages may be left for the Executive Director or one may reach him directly at thegsa@yahoo.com.

Association Web Site

The Association web site is at www.g-s-a.org, and it contains all information about the GSA. Current news of the Association is featured. A membership form may be found on the web site. The web site also provides information about the Association's book and article prizes. The official GSA Guidelines for German Studies Programs are published on the web site, and may be printed out.

Information about conference participation, special materials on the conference hotel and discount airline tickets, as well as on-line conference registration and hotel reservation forms are available.

The web site contains information about the Berlin Program, a special research and study program in cooperation with the Freie Universität Berlin. Members and non-members are invited to familiarize themselves with the Berlin Program and its application procedures. GSA will be the North American partner of the Berlin Program, and GSA names the North American representatives to the Selection Committee.

The web site is under continuous further development. During 2003, conference registration and hotel reservation was offered on line for the first time. In succeeding years, GSA will put its membership on line, so that members may renew and non-members join, and members can maintain their addresses and update their data. Also, the conference proposal procedure will soon be completely on line, so that proposals for conference participation will be generated on the web site, enabling members to have instant confirmation of the status of those proposals.

Newsletter

The Association publishes a Newsletter containing news about the Association, professional news, information about grants, research opportunities, information about computers and software for academic users, films and classroom aids, major resource collections, archival reports, occasional reviews of current literature and textbooks, and other news.

Members are invited to submit articles and other information to the Newsletter. They can be on any current topic or issue within the profession. Research articles are intended for the journal. Contributions should be sent to the Executive Director, Gerald R. Kleinfeld, at thegsa@yahoo.com as an attachment in Word.

German Studies Review

The journal of the Association is German Studies Review, published three times a year in February, May, and October. The Review contains articles and book reviews in all the fields of the Association. Publication is in the language of submission, English or German. Members of the Association are the primary book reviewers, and one should become a member before offering to review a book. All reviews are assigned. The Editor of the Review is Diethelm Prowe (Carleton College), and the Book Review Editor is Judith Ricker (University of Arkansas). Books for review should be sent by publishers to the Book Review Editor, and not to the Editor or to the Association Main Office. Books sent to the wrong address are likely to be lost.

General Conference Information

Location

The 2003 Twenty-Seventh Annual Conference of the German Studies Association will be held in the New Orleans Radisson Hotel at 1500 Canal Street, New Orleans, Louisiana 70112. The hotel telephone number is 504-522-4500, and the fax is 504-522-3627. All hotel reservations MUST be made through the GSA Main Office, and it is only possible to secure the discounted hotel room rate through the Association. There are limited other rooms available and, since the hotel is within walking distance of the French Quarter, other hotels are expensive. The special GSA rate is $119 per room, single or double. Hotel reservations at this rate are only available to persons attending the GSA Conference, and for that reason it is necessary to register for the Conference in order to receive this hotel rate. The GSA will forward reservation requests for rooms at this rate as long as we still have rooms in our block or until the deadline the hotel has given us to sell the block and the excess rooms are then withdrawn. After that time, the hotel will sell the remaining rooms at the rack rate, which is considerably higher than our discounted rate.

Confirmation of registration with the conference is available instantly for those who register on line. For those who register by mail or fax, your credit card charge or your processed bank check will be your confirmation. GSA does not mail confirmation of registrations or of hotel reservations. Confirmations of hotel reservations are sent by the hotel as soon as they are entered into the hotel computer.

Observe the cut-off date for the GSA room block in early September. GSA cannot guarantee the availability of rooms after that time, but will endeavor to keep some from being withdrawn. GSA will make every effort to assist latecomers in securing a room, but cannot guarantee that one will be found. Late reservations, received after our reservation block has been filled, are late.

Remember! It is necessary to register for the Conference to attend the Conference and to give a paper.

Badges. No person will be admitted to the Conference section of the hotel without a badge. There are no exceptions. Persons who do not wear their Conference Badge will be denied access to the meeting rooms. If you are presenting a paper and have no badge, you may not be able to enter the meeting room area. And, it is necessary to register for the Conference to secure a hotel room.

Airline and Car Rental Discounts

The German Studies Association has selected SIGNATURE DESTINATIONS of Phoenix, Arizona, a travel agency affiliated with CARLSON/WAGONS-LITS, as our official travel agency for the 2003 GSA Conference. We had a very good experience with Signature Destinations last year, and we are renewing our contracts with them. Do get on their list for e-mail notification of specials.

GSA has negotiated special airline discounts and car rental discounts for the Conference in New Orleans. These are only available through SIGNATURE. The agency has guaranteed GSA that they will offer the best fares available, and the best car rental fees available.

In addition, there are special discounts for airline tickets booked more than 60 days in advance of the Conference.

Contact SignatureDestinations toll-free at 1-800-486-6884 or e-mail to wally@signaturedestinations.com or amy@signaturedestinations.com.

We are trying to serve GSA members in every way possible. SIGNATURE has also agreed to assist GSA members in booking transatlantic tickets at low fares, and they can give good service for all of your travel needs. All of this helps. The more tickets GSA members book through SIGNATURE, the more we can show the individual airlines that GSA has a meaningful traffic flow. We hope to use this to increase discounts available to our members in the future, as well as to bring other benefits to GSA. Up to now, participants have booked their tickets individually in a variety of ways, and it has been impossible to demonstrate that over 700 people fly to our Conference site. This way, we will be able to assist members by offering good fares, and show that we actually do have a heavy traffic flow. Hopefully, we can obtain even better discounts in the future, and more benefits to GSA and its members. Volume discounts help. For example, did you know that GSA has a special account at British Airways (Venture Club #7QX001US) under which you can earn BA frequent flyer miles AND, GSA also earns points as well? Whenever you fly BA, give them your frequent flyer number and our number, too. We both earn points.

GSA Airlines and Auto Rental Partner for 2003

This year, GSA is offering special discounts on United and Delta, and also on Avis Rental Cars for the New Orleans Conference. Call Signature to get the best prices, on these or other airlines and car rental companies. Signature will give you personal service.

How to book your airline ticket or car rental:

Call SIGNATURE at 1-800-486-6884. Call Monday through Friday at business hours in Mountain Standard Time. Or, you can reach an agent directly by e-mail. Write to amy@signaturedestinations.com or to wally@signaturedestinations.com. You will get personal service.

You can have an e-mail copy of your booking, and an e-ticket will ensure that you do not have anything to lose. Just go to the airline ticket counter at your airport when you are ready to leave, and the boarding pass will be issued when you show a picture ID. Don't forget to give the SIGNATURE agent your frequent flyer number.

Important Information for all International Participants

The United States is not a member of the European Banking Consortium. Therefore, Eurocheques are not accepted by American banks or hotels, restaurants, shops, etc. Some banks will make an exception, occasionally for a fee. Whatever the bank policy may be, Eurocheques are simply not valid in U.S. dollars, and may not be written in U.S. dollars. The U.S. dollar is not a denomination accepted by the Eurocheque consortium. Clearly put, European banks do not recognize Eurocheques written in U.S. dollars and charge a fee to convert them. It may be a very high fee. Therefore, they must be made out in Euros. If not, expect a fee that might even be equivalent to 40% of the face value. Banks are free to charge any fee.

Experienced European travelers either bring travelers' checks made out in U.S. dollars or take along both a Visa or MasterCard and a check card. All hotels and most restaurants take credit cards. A check card, if it is part of one of the international networks like Cirrus, will function in an ATM (Automatic Teller Machine = Geldautomat). Most hotels and some restaurants take American Express and Diner's Club, but both of these are less used than in Europe and Visa and MasterCard are more universal. Since virtually all North Americans have credit cards, businesses cater to this. In Germany, for example, fewer and fewer businesses accept credit cards, and most require a check card. This is not the standard in the United States.

It is often the case in Europe and elsewhere that individuals are invited to a conference in order to present a paper. In such circumstances, the individual may not be expected to pay conference registration fees. We have occasionally had embarrassing experiences where a European participant has informed persons at the Conference Registration Desk that he or she has been “invited” by someone and therefore need not pay the fees. This situation does not occur at American scholarly associations. This is because American scholarly associations are supported by the membership and the participants. Here, no one is invited, and all are treated equally as having proposed papers or sessions. Europeans or others who believe that they have been invited have actually consented to having someone apply to GSA on their behalf. Thus, all are required to pay conference registration fees. American association conferences are “shared gatherings,” and costs are covered by sharing expenses, such as paying registration fees. This includes foreign participants who are presenting papers. You are not exempt, and are expected to participate in the costs as well as the benefits. All participants must pay registration fees. The President of the Association and the Executive Director and all members of the Executive Committee also pay registration fees and meal ticket costs.

The Printed Program

This printed Program is mailed to all GSA members as of the date of publication. Non-members may pick up their copy of Program at the Conference Registration Desk at no charge, once they have registered. Persons at the Conference who lose their Program may purchase an additional copy, subject to availability, for $15.

REGISTRATION INFORMATION

The German Studies Association offers pre-registration on-line as well as by mail and fax. Those who have pre-registered may pick up their conference badge and meal tickets at the GSA Registration Desk after arrival. GSA does not mail these materials. Postage is expensive, and this frugal decision keeps dues and conference fees lower.

Anyone may register at the Conference. For convenience, the Registration Desk is open before the Conference begins. This is important, because admission to the Conference area is not possible without a badge.

GSA Registration Desk at the Hotel

The GSA Registration Desk is located in the Grand Ballroom lobby area, and its hours of operation are:

Thursday, September 17, 3:00PM to 8:30PM

Friday, September 18, 7:30AM to 4:00PM

Saturday, September 19, 8:00AM to 12:00PM

Luncheons and Dinner Meal Tickets

Luncheons are scheduled for Friday and Saturday, and the Dinner of the Association is scheduled for Friday. Attendance at the meal functions is by advance purchase only, and tickets are not sold at the door. Tickets may be ordered during pre-registration. A limited number of tickets is available on site at the Conference Registration Desk. Therefore, the availability of tickets for meal functions on site is not guaranteed. Kindly do not forget your meal ticket. Tickets are required for admission to the Banquet Room. The hotel staff is not able to accept excuses, only tickets.

GSA does not re-sell tickets. GSA will distribute tickets only to the purchaser, not a representative of the purchaser. GSA will not act to distribute a ticket to someone who has bought it from a purchaser. Purchasers may re-sell unused tickets to other persons. GSA is not involved in such activities.

CGGP Business Meeting

The Conference Group on German Politics (CGGP) holds its Annual Business Meeting at the GSA. The President of the CGGP, William Chandler (University of California, San Diego) has called the Business Meeting this year for Friday, 5 PM, in the Cypress Room. All members are invited to attend.

Child Care During the GSA Conference

The German Studies Association neither recommends nor investigates the services of local child care facilities. GSA does not have the expertise to perform such evaluations. Therefore, GSA can only provide a list that has been taken from the local yellow pages. It is the responsibility of parents to investigate such facilities including those listed here, and those not listed here. The list GSA provides is a random list, and GSA does not and cannot certify that these facilities are more or less suitable.

Stolze Städte in der DDR

ISBN 3-515-08301-4

Obwohl über die DDR schon viel geforscht worden ist, haben HistorikerInnen bislang kaum über Städte gearbeitet. Besonders auf Festen und Feiern wurde Herrschaft repräsentiert und Stadtöffentlichkeit aktiviert. Staat und Partei brauchten die Städte als sichtbares Zeichen der von ihnen proklamierten Leistungsfähigkeit des sozialistischen Systems. Sondermittel sollten die städtische Infrastruktur und die Versorgungslage verbessern. Nach außen hin dienten die großen Ereignisse dazu, Einigkeit zwischen Staat und Stadt zu inszenieren und vielfältige Identifikationsangebote zu schaffen.

Dieser Band zeigt nun durch Einblicke in die Akten auch die zahlreichen Spannungen zwischen Staat und Stadt auf, besonders bei Fragen der Geschichtskultur, der Veranstaltungstypen, der Politisierung sowie der Sicherheit und Organisation.
